HOW TO PLAY

◆ TEXAS HOLD'EM

Texas Hold'Em uses 5 community cards in conjunction with each player's own 2 cards. A minimum of 2 and a maximum of 10 players can participate at each table.

The 2 players to the left of the dealer button begin by posting the blind bets. Two cards are dealt to each player face down, followed by the first round of betting. Next, 3 cards are dealt face up in the center of the table, these are community cards. The second round of betting follows. Then the fourth communal card is dealt face up and the third round of betting takes place. The final communal card is dealt face up, followed by the last round of betting. Finally, it's time for the showdown. The dealer reads aloud all hands shown at this time and the pot goes to the highest-ranking 5 card poker hand.

◆ OMAHA & OMAHA HIGH/LOW

Omaha uses 5 community cards in conjunction with each player's own 4 cards. A minimum of 2 and a maximum of 10 players can participate at each table.

The 2 players to the left of the dealer button begin by posting the blind bets. Four cards are dealt to each player face down, followed by the first round of betting. Next, 3 cards are dealt face up in the center of the table, these are community cards. The second round of betting follows. Then the fourth communal card is dealt face up and the third round of betting takes place. The final communal card is dealt face up, followed by the last round of betting. Now it's time to see who takes the pot. The dealer reads aloud all hands shown at this time and the pot goes to the highest-ranking 5 card poker hand, using 2 cards from the player's hand and 3 from the communal cards. In Omaha High/Low, if applicable, the lowest ranking 5 card poker hand will split the pot with the highest-ranking 5 card poker hand. The criteria for this to occur is that the winning lowest-ranking hand may not contain any pairs and may not contain a card higher than 8.

◆ 7-CARD STUD

The object of 7-Card Stud is to create the best 5-card poker hand out of the 7 cards.

Three cards are dealt to each player - 2 face down and 1 faces up. The first betting round takes place; beginning with a forced bet for the player showing the lowest card. The fourth card is dealt face up, followed by a round of betting. After this first round, two more rounds of dealing (face up cards) and betting follow. The final card is dealt face down, followed by the last round of betting. At last, the suspense comes to an end. Each player in the hand turns their 3 down cards face up in the table. The dealer reads aloud all hands shown at this time and the pot goes to the highest-ranking 5 card poker hand. In the case of a tie, strength of hand is determined by the suit of the tied cards in order of highest to lowest ranking - Spades, Hearts, Diamonds and Clubs.
